Corporate Message

Offering multiple proposals to help realize richer housing and living

"Clothing, food, and housing" are three basic factors for living a good life. When looking at these factors, clothing and food in Japan have matured to a high level equal to other developed countries. However, for housing, there are a lot that were built at a time when "quantity" was the main priority, so we cannot say that home environment quality in Japan is on a high level as a whole with other countries in the developed world.

Japan Kenzai Co., Ltd's mission is to raise the quality of this home environment, to raise the standard of home environment in Japan up to the level of other Western industrial countries, and to respond carefully to the diversifying needs for housing and living in Japan. With the focus of the JK group being to "creating a home environment more comfortable and rich", we are eager to engage in this business.

As a good partner to our customers and suppliers, and as a company focused on the housing industry, we believe our goals are to contribute to society by creating and providing a high quality home environment where people can experience delight and happiness in their daily life.

We have offered housing material and equipment to improve the quality of "housing" in Japan. However, to raise the quality of home environment even further, it is necessary to improve the quality of "living" - the way people live their lives. A transition from simply "selling products" to "complete service offering and sales" which is suggested from the view points of both "housing" and "living" is needed to create a home environment more comfortable and rich.

Japan Kenzai Co., Ltd. will continue to offer multiple proposals to realize a richer housing and living from the perspective of "the way of housing & living".
